

National Training of Trainer Courses: On-Line Training of Trainer Registration Form

About the Center for Inclusive Child Care:

The Center for Inclusive Child Care (CICC) is a comprehensive resource network for promoting and supporting inclusive early childhood and school-age programs and providers. This network provides leadership, administrative support, training, and consultation to early care and education providers, school-age care providers, parents, and the professionals who support providers and parents of children with special needs. The Center for Inclusive Child Care is part of Concordia University's College of Education in St. Paul, Minnesota.

The Center for Inclusive Child Care is dedicated to increasing the availability of quality options for families of children with special needs in community-based early childhood and school-age child care. Services include inclusion trainer support, training of trainer opportunities, inclusion consultation and training, technical assistance, disability resources for professionals and families at www.inclusivechildcare.org, a comprehensive Learning Center at www.inclusivechildcare.org, and links to hundreds of disability and inclusion resources. The CICC is funded through the Minnesota Department of Human Services and the Minnesota Department of Education.

Customized courses can be arranged for groups of 12 to 15 participants. Contact Cindy Croft at 651-603-6265 or croft@csp.edu for more information. CEUs are also available at course completion for an additional fee. Visit www.inclusivechildcare.org and click on Learning Center for complete course information.

About the Courses:

This Training of Trainer course is based on the training curriculum Children and Challenging Behavior: Making Inclusion Work, an evidence-based, peer reviewed narrative training manual with accompanying training activities designed for each workshop (two volume set). There are a total of seven narrative chapters with 4-8 corresponding training activities that can be developed into a series of seven 2-4 hour workshops or into credit coursework. Materials include the function of behavior, the role of environment, tools for your toolbox, specific strategies for ADHD and Autism, and much more. Training is appropriate for child care, Head Start, special education, Learning Readiness, and school age providers and educators. The training of trainers is four weeks in length, with mandatory messageboard postings and four mandatory 45-minute chats. In addition, there will be required correspondence between the instructor and each participant in the form of 'reflection of learning.' Work must be successfully completed in order to be certified in this training curriculum by the Center for Inclusive Child Care. Upon certification, trainers can be listed in the trainer registry at www.inclusivechildcare.org. Note: The CICC does not hire trainers or guarantee employment as a trainer but only offers the training of trainer certification and an opportunity to market yourself through the CICC trainer database. Course cost including the 2 volume curriculum is $250.00.

This Training of Trainer course Sensory Processing Disorder is based on material which is a supplemental to the curriculum Children and Challenging Behavior: Making Inclusion Work, an evidence-based, peer reviewed narrative training manual with accompanying training activities manual designed for each workshop (two volume set).
